Expansion to the south of Brazil

It is with great pleasure that we announce the opening of a new office and the admission of a new partner on September 1st.

Our new office is located in Porto Alegre, the capital of the state of Rio Grande do Sul, in the South of Brazil. In the last decades, this region has attracted investments in all areas, which have fostered the growth of new technologies and the development of new businesses.

We are honored to admit to our partnership, as head of the Porto Alegre Office, the renowned lawyer Fabiano de Bem da Rocha, born and raised in the South. Fabiano is a good friend of ours and a bright professional, who is widely admired in Brazil.

With 20 years of experience in Intellectual Property Law, Fabiano stands out for its active participation in the OAB/RS* Special Commission for Intellectual Property and for having chaired this Commission; for his work as the current President of the Brazilian Association of Industrial Property Agents (ABAPI), established in Rio de Janeiro; for his collaboration as a member of the Editorial Board of the Brazilian Association of Intellectual Property (ABPI); and for his praised performance as a graduate professor and author of two books on civil procedure.

By opening a new office in the South, Kasznar Leonardos intends to meet the demands of local businesses through the provision, with excellence, of legal services for the protection of intellectual property rights.
